

The Three Stages of GTM Build

$2M to $50M ARR isn't one motion. It's three. Most founders run the wrong one for the stage they're in.

01

Hand-to-Hand Combat ($0-10M)

Founder-led deals. Excitement closes pipeline. You win on relationships, urgency, and willingness to do anything to land the logo. Process is a distraction here.

02

Process Layering ($10–25M)

Standardize the motion the second you have more than one rep. Stage gates, MEDDIC, forecast cadence, enablement. The energy that got you here will not scale you to $25M.

03

Pipeline-Metric Sophistication ($25M+)

Funnel conversion by segment. CAC payback by motion. Pipeline coverage by quarter, by rep, by source. You're now managing an engine, not a deal sheet.

Run the playbook for the stage you're in.

Stage-three rigor in a stage-one company kills momentum.
Stage-one chaos in a stage-three company kills the engine.
Diagnose, then build.
