

The Agentic-Per-Segment Spectrum

You don't pick one AI strategy for sales. You pick three.
Where you apply AI is inversely proportional to ACV.

01

AI sharpens the rep. Never owns the room.

Six-figure deals are still won by people. The agent preps the call, surfaces the account intel, drafts the follow-up. The rep does the deal.

02

AI-enabled. Human last.

Agents draft the outbound, score the intent, build the sequence. A rep reviews every touch before it goes out. Speed up, but keep the judgment loop in.

03

Agent owns outreach. Human hits send.

Low ACV math only works if cost per touch drops near zero. The agent runs the play. The human is the safety check, not the operator.

THE RULE

1/ACV

AI INTENSITY

The bigger the deal, the less AI sits between you and the buyer. The smaller the deal, the more the agent has to carry.

Agentic powers the experience. It doesn't own the room.

The agent is there to make the rep look good and make the rep sharper. It is not there to close your deal.
